Dear Sir:

We are in receipt of the presentation case for prize wheat, also sample of wheat, for which kindly accept our thanks. We have asked our bankers to procure the gold pieces. When same arrive we propose displaying the goods and the wheat in a prominent place in our window. We believe it will create considerable interest, and should be a good advertisement for you.

We will take good care of the case, and return same to you as soon as we find the interest waning.

Thanking you for your consideration in this matter, we remain,

Yours very truly,

Dear Sir,-

We are returning to-day by Express prepaid, the case which you so kindly loaned us.

It has proven to be quite an attraction during the Bonspeil when the city was full of visitors from the United States and Canada, and also from the old country.

Hoping it will reach you in good condition, and also hoping you will call in and see us some time when you are in the city.

We remain, Yours truly,

PORTE & MARKLE LTD.
